

Systemair's President and CEO Robert Larsson starts today

Skinnskatteberg, Sweden, January 2, 2026 – Today, January 2, 2026, Robert Larsson assumes the position of President and CEO of Systemair (NASDAQ Stockholm: SYSR).

The Board of Directors of Systemair AB appointed Robert Larsson as the new President and CEO on July 3, 2025, to succeed Roland Kasper, who has served as President and CEO since 2015.

"I am both honoured and very pleased that the Board has entrusted me with this responsibility, and I feel great enthusiasm about leading this international ventilation group together with the rest of the management team. Systemair is well-managed and well-positioned for the future. We offer high-quality ventilation products and place great emphasis on providing energy-efficient solutions that reduce buildings' energy needs. We have strong brands and a global, diversified customer base. I have spent two months familiarizing myself with the group and am delighted by a very strong corporate culture. I look forward to taking the next step together with the company's driven employees," says Robert Larsson, President and CEO of Systemair.

Patrik Nolåker, Chairman of Systemair AB, says: "Systemair has a clear growth journey ahead. The goal for the Group is to double its size within 7 years, and this is where Robert's broad industrial and international expertise comes in. Together with the employees in our organization, Robert will develop Systemair to the next level."
